

no outputs at the earlier steps, so no loss there: the one error signal is the classification's, and it is back-propagated through the classifier, then through the RNN --- end-to-end training

